

Special Eurobarometer 554

Artificial Intelligence and the future of work

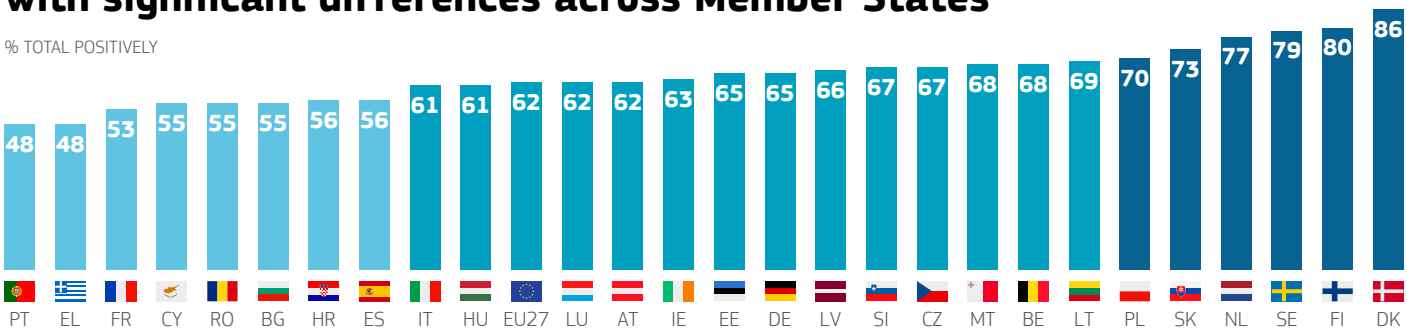

Fieldwork: April - May 2024

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is increasingly shaping our economy, quality of life and the workplace. Most Europeans view AI as a positive force, however they emphasise the need for careful management to ensure it brings benefits to society and the world of work.

Most Europeans think that digital technologies, including AI, have a positive impact on...

- 66% Their job
- 62% The economy (-13 pps)*
- 62% Quality of life (-5 pps)*
- 62% Social security benefits
- 56% Society (-8 pps)*

62% of Europeans view robots and AI positively at work, with significant differences across Member States

84% believe AI requires careful management

Most Europeans support rules on digital technologies in the workplace, including:

- Protecting workers' privacy 82%
- Involving workers in technology design and adoption 77%
- Ensuring transparency in human resources management 75%
- Banning fully automated decisions 74%
- Limiting automated employee monitoring 72%

*The numbers in brackets refer to the difference in percentage compared to the previous study of 2017

Europeans perceive the use of digital technologies at the workplace...

Positively for...

Improving workers' safety and security
67%

Making accurate decisions
53%

Task allocation or managing work schedule
49%

Negatively for...

Automatically firing workers
78%

Monitoring workers
63%

Selecting job applicants
57%

Assessing work performance
57%

45% of respondents
have not been informed about the use of digital technologies by their employers

It is one of the key objectives of the Competitiveness Compass to integrate AI into workplaces to boost innovation and productivity.

Member States have planned €2 billion in European Social Fund Plus programmes and €23 billion in their Recovery and Resilience plans to support the development of digital skills.

Digital Europe invests €580 million to advance digital skills.

© European Union, 2025
Reuse of this document is allowed, provided appropriate credit is given and any changes are indicated (Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International license). For any use or reproduction of elements that are not owned by the EU, permission may need to be sought directly from the respective right holders. Illustrations and icons © Freepik © @vectorjuice © @jiwingka – all rights reserved.
PDF ISBN 978-92-68-21814-3 doi: 10.2767/0994154 KE-01-24-017-EN-N